Police headquarters has been undergoing its annual spring house cleaning, the work being done by a cordon of workers enlisted by Chief Sinclair. Just now the police are being measured for new uniforms, the spring allowances of apparel to be supplemented with new overalls in the fall.

Palo Lucchina, who was awarded a seventh class license by the county commissioners early in the week, has leased the lower floor of the building at 60 Granite street, where he will establish himself in business if the location is approved by the commission after a hearing to be held May 14.

Kelly's office for several months, has completed her duties and is now engaged in the office of Charles Bianchi & Son, succeeding her sister, Miss Adele Bianchi, who has been transferred to the firm's Buffalo office.

Miss Mary Bishop of Barre, a graduate of Spaulding high school in the class of 1916 and now a member of the freshman class in the University of Vermont, won the first prize in the Julia Spear prize reading contest there this week, the contestants being chosen from the young ladies of the two lower classes. Miss Bishop has also won high position in scholastic work, being among those named for attaining high rank during the first half of the year's work.

Sixty neighbors and other friends effected a flanking movement on the home of Mrs. Isabella Gibson of Highland avenue last evening, took the household by surprise and carried out well laid plans for an enjoyable farewell party. There was an impromptu program in which vocal and instrumental numbers were featured and before the exercises were over Mrs. Isabella Thompson, speaking in behalf of the company, had presented Mrs. Gibson a purse of money. Afterward refreshments were served and fireworks taken. Mrs. Gibson and her two children are to leave within a few days for Jackson, Mich., there to make their home.

Comparatively few motorists, according to the police, are complying with the new statute regulating the glare of auto headlights and it is with the feeling that enough warning has been given that the authorities expect to institute prosecutions if the letter of the law is not obeyed. It is said that enough data of an incriminating nature may be secured any time after dark. Dealers report a brisk demand for glass discs that are designed to eliminate the flare occasioned by strong lamps and it is likely that autoists are coming gradually to an understanding of what the lawmakers of 1917 contemplated in legislating for less vivid flashes on rural and city roads and streets.

A statistician, speculating on the possible effects of conscription here in Vermont, has produced some interesting figures on the basis of an initial army of one million men. Reckoning the population of the United States to be 100,000,000 people, which estimate probably falls a million short of the actual enumeration, it would take one out of every 100 men to raise the first million. Bringing the computation within familiar bounds, it will be seen that Vermont's quota will be 3,539, or thereabouts, if the 1910 census (353,900) is used. Washington county, with a population of 41,000, would be asked to contribute 410 men to the state's quota. The population of Barre in 1910 was 10,724 and this city's quota, therefore, would be around 100 men, or a quarter of the county's strength.

The members of the freshmen class at Spaulding high school gave the sophomores the annual reception at the assembly hall last evening, when students of the two classes to the number of 75, with the faculty as chaperones, made merry throughout the entertainment. Games of various kinds and dancing were enjoyed, with the freshman orchestra furnishing the music for the occasion. In one corner of the hall the punch and wafer table was in great demand and kept a large delegation busy waiting on the thirsty and hungry. The committee in charge were the Misses Isabella Beatrice, Ida Gould, Dorothy Stone, Mary Geals and Messrs. Clarence Carpenter, James McCarthy, Orlo Speare and L. Denamore.

After a program was completed, a ring, as a gift from the guests, was presented the host by William Ross. Mr. Shannon responded in a feeling manner. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

MONTPELIER

Patriotic Demonstration is Planned for Next Friday.

Montpelier is to follow the example set by St. Johnsbury and other towns in the state by having a big wake-up parade next Friday afternoon followed by exercises at a mass meeting to be held in the city hall with Gov. H. F. Graham, Judge Harland B. Howe and Rev. Francis Metzger the speakers. The decision to have a parade and patriotic exercises was reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the patriotic committee of the local committee on public safety.

The committee is getting in touch with all the industries and merchants and it is expected that business will be suspended Friday noon. All the granite plants will be shut down, the Lane shops will be closed, all the stores will close and the schools, including the parochial school and Montpelier seminary, will complete the sessions at noon to allow the students to march in the parade.

The committee is of the opinion that the success of the parade is assured providing all the citizens of Montpelier join in a spirit of co-operation.

Chief W. A. Pattee of the fire department has been chosen as marshal and the forming of the parade and the route of march will be left in his charge. In line will be the Grand Army Veterans, Woman's Relief corps, Sons of Veterans, Spanish-American war veterans, city council, fire department, all granite workers, employees of the Lane shops, school children, including Montpelier seminary students, camfré girls, boy scouts, and most, if not all, of the fraternal organizations.

The band will furnish music and in addition every organization will be asked to bring its own patriotic songs and cheer leader.

Chairman Rev. S. F. Blomfield of the committee this forenoon got in touch with President Ira L. Reeves of Norwich university and an effort will be made to have the cadets join in the parade, lending an additional military air.

The committee in charge consists of Rev. S. F. Blomfield, Rev. L. C. Carson, P. J. Jerome, Ira Richardson, Dr. H. L. Watson, Raymond Dwinell, George W. Wing, Harry Bianchi, David Spicer, M. J. Flannery, Romeo Magne, William Reed and S. Martini.

A marriage license was issued Thursday at the city clerk's office to Winthrop G. Lincoln of 438 Broadway, Providence, R. I., and Olga Flowers of Bridgeport, N. J. The prospective groom is a salesman. This is the first license granted out of the state parties at the local office since the Dunham marriage law took effect and they must wait five days before having the ceremony performed.

A case in general assumpsit, George E. May vs. Fred R. Morse, with J. Ward Carver counsel for the plaintiff, was entered to-day in the county clerk's office. The case is returnable at the September term of court.

Frank Lamperti, a student at the University of Vermont, is visiting in the city with his mother and other relatives.

Herschel Cooney, who has been ill with heart trouble for the past four months, resumed his duties to-day as ticket agent at the local Central Vermont station. Mr. Cooney has the day trick and the other agents have been shifted to their regular hours of duty.

Montpelier high school will open its baseball season next Wednesday afternoon in this city with a game with St. Albans high school. Levi Kelly, who will do the bulk of the catching this season, was elected captain of the team early in the week. Practice has been held on the campus the last two nights although the weather has not been very favorable. Sawyer, last year's twirler, will be the mainstay in the box with Kelly receiving and the infield will be much the same as last year with Sheridan on first, Gross at short and Smith at third. Clark is the only veteran outfielder.

Game warden and sportsmen gathered in the reception room at the State House yesterday afternoon to participate in a conference called by Fish and Game Commissioner Linus Leavens and County Game Warden Newcomb. The new commissioner plans to hold similar meetings in every county for the purpose of acquainting the deputy wardens with his policies and to ask the sportsmen to co-operate in making the department efficient and satisfactory. The meeting was attended by about thirty from different sections of the county.
